

About MindChamp

MindChamp is an all women company teaching coding to kids since 2016. It was one of the first companies to bring coding to India. The Founders are both from the IT background and authors of the CS school textbooks , Smart Tech series (Collins Publications). They understood the importance of coding and technology in a child's life and wanted to expose them from the basics to advanced coding concepts in a creative manner. Now, we have students across the globe learning to create websites/ animations/ apps and games in a fun, interactive yet structured manner. We have been recognized by institutions such as Startup India, Cap Gemini etc. To know more, please check our www.mindchamp.in. Attached more information.
